Rank the items by similarity

We explain the task to the user (he or she should drag the images in the numbered spot based on how similar they are to the example given: the most similar image in the first spot, the second most similar in the second spot ecc.).
The task should be repeated again with a different image.

A few pop-up windows should explain the basic function of the page to help the user carry on the task.
When clicking on the "NEXT" another pop up windows appear until the tutorial is completed
